

The Journal Gazette

BRIEFS

May 30, 2008

Ex-Chamber exec pens book on vision

Jim Dittoe, a former president of the Greater Fort Wayne Chamber of Commerce, has published a book titled "90 Days to a Winning Community: A Guide to Achieving Your Community Vision."

Dittoe was president of the local chamber from 1986 to 1990 and is now president of Indianapolis-based Winning Communities.

The author focuses on the nine C's of winning communities, which include change, challenges, concern and commitment. He wants to help communities develop goals and action plans to achieve them. The 157-page book sells for $19.95 and is available at www.90DaystoWinningCommunity.com or by calling 1-888-280-7715. The book was published by Bloomington-based AuthorHouse, a self-publishing company.